3 ways to win!

Object:

Be the first player to “Stick Six” of your color in a horizontal line, diagonal line, or circle.

Setup/Game Play:

Each player chooses a color. The youngest player goes first by sticking one of their pieces anywhere on the board. Play continues clockwise around the table. On their turn, players stick a suction cup to either side of the board. Once placed, play continues to the next player.

Game Suggestions:

While you can “stick” to just one side of the board, you might find it works to your advantage to play both sides. For example, you could have two pieces on one side of the board and four pieces on the other side to complete your winning move. When it comes to strategy, don’t feel “stuck” playing only one side. The Stick Six board spins for a reason! Spinning the board changes your point of view—and that of your opponent. You can see the strategy from your opponent’s perspective, or maybe even throw them off their game!

If all pieces have been used and there is not a winner, each player removes five pieces of their color from the board. Players take one piece off at a time until each player has five pieces in their possession. Those five pieces go back into play. Play now resumes as before. This can be repeated until one player emerges victorious.

As game play progresses, players may need to switch their strategy and begin to play more offensively.

Winning the game:

When a player has created a horizontal line, diagonal line, or circle shape of their color in a row, they win the game!

PLEASE NOTE:

While everyone loves a good suction cup, sometimes these little fellas take on a mind of their own and jump from the playing surface before the game is over. If it happens during the game, simply replace the fallen suction cup and carry on. However, if this happens more frequently, give the suction cups a quick bath by dousing them in warm water with just a drip of detergent, which will help to eliminate build up of oils and residues on the playing pieces. Wiping down the playing board with a damp cloth before starting a game can help as well.
