

A Wonderfully Wild Mathematical Safari!

Learning® Magazine 2011 Teachers' Choice Award Winner!
2010 National Parenting Publications Award
2010 Exceptional Toy Review & Gift Guide Selection

Meet your new animal friends - Inchimals! What can you learn from a rabbit that is exactly four inches tall? If you are a child, plenty!

Beautifully crafted and thoughtfully designed, Inchimals is a set of 12 wooden blocks which measure 1" in height (the tiny ladybug) to 12" high (the towering giraffe). With precise inch segments, correct numbers, and dot equivalent on ends of blocks, and cute animals too - this learning toy is a sure winner. Ideal for the many ages of children.

- Sequence the Inchimal blocks from the shortest to the longest.
- Practice counting & learn about numbers as you explore the individual segments, numbers and dots on each Inchimal block
- Learn addition and subtraction concepts!
- Discuss the animals pictured on the Inchimal blocks and their relative heights/lengths.
